1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: "17" used on page 4, lines 10 and 15. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The use of numeral 17 for two different elements, a shoulder and a shelf, on page 4, lines 10 and 15, neither of which appears in the figures (see above).
3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
4. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. There is no antecedent basis for "said flange" in claim 4 because only two flanges have been previously identified. Alternately, it is not certain which of the two flanges is being referred to. It appears that "said flange" should be – said flanges --.

Appropriate correction is required.

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 2-5 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 of copending Application No. 10/692,906. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all of the limitations of '906 application claim 1 are found in this '567 application claims 2 and 3. '906 claim 1 and '567 claims 2 and 3 each call for a universal collar secured to a container used in a dispenser with a key and a keyway with first and second axially spaced flanges that extend radially or (synonymously) outward with a keyless surface between the flanges so that the dispenser keyway is bypassed. The '567 claims 2 and 3 add the limitations of a vertical rib in claim 2 and a rear notch in claim 3. One of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious that limitations could have been omitted from '567 claims 2 and 3 for the purpose of attaining broader claim coverage. Additionally, '906 claim 1 is a broad claim that is generic to all of the embodiments in both the '906 and the '567 application wherein, if '906 claim 1 is allowed, since it is a generic claim it would establish that there is no patentable distinction between the various embodiments called for in the '906 and the '567 applications. '567 claim 5 rephrases the limitations in '906 claim 2 wherein it is inherent, or at least would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, that the purpose of a notch on a container collar is to mate with a corresponding projection on the mating container.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

7. Claims 6 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
